

BE A VOLUNTEER
'R2S ROLE MODEL'
Make a difference

If you are a successful black male who cares about the future of young black men and wants to make a difference, then please consider applying to be a R2S role model.

Successful applicants will be trained and connected to young people and other R2S role models. You will receive induction training and your travel and subsistence costs will be covered.

You need to find the time and have the desire to make a real difference.

'It is a great honour and challenge to engage with young people to tell my story and listen to theirs.'

Patrice, Entrepreneur.

'I feel that having strived to overcome many obstacles that it is my duty to help others to do the same'

Dominic, Scriptwriter and Author.

The next generation of black men are likely to be left behind in the 'race for opportunity' unless the Routes2Success project can help our young males to help themselves to create a positive change and future. Bola, Quantity Surveyor and Entrepreneur.
